CURRICULUM VITAE

Born as a baby girl named Mei Dianita from an average family in a small district, she is now a young lady with a happy life. She was born in Bakti Rasa village, Palas District, South Lampung, on May 8th, 1989. Her biological parents are Sarjono and Rusiti, who got divorced in 1994. She had two biological siblings, her elder sister Yuniati, and her younger sister, Esti Susanti. She moved and lived with her father and her elder sister to a place in East Lampung where she spent her childhood and teenage life there. Life might be complicated when her father got married for the second time, and her mother got married to another man as well. From the new marriage life, she got new siblings, Kurnia Wati, Rino, the twins brothers Redi Kusuma and Rudi Kusuma, and the little one Cika.

After moving to East Lampung, she began her kindergaten in TK Bina Putra, Batanghari Nuban, East Lampung. In the same year, she enrolled in an Elementary School of SD N 2 Cempaka Nuban, Batanghari Nuban, East Lampung from 1996-2002. On July 2002, she was registered as a student in SMP N 2 Kotagajah, Central Lampung, and graduated in 2005. Then she enrolled in SMA N 1 Kotagajah, the best school in the Regency of Central Lampung. She started the school in 2005 and graduated in 2008. Since elementary school, she was kind of a study oriented girl; therefore she grabbed the first rank in almost every grade level and won several achievements, particularly in English field.

She began her real life challenge when she chose the University of Lampung as her only dream-campus after her high school graduation. By the wills of Allaah, she enrolled for the university through the nationwide entrance test (SNMPTN) and was officially selected as a student of English Education Study Program in 2008. She was so curious to improve her average English ability, and it drove her to join English Society (ESo) in her first semester. She found it comfortable when meeting such great new people in the organization, such inspiring and friendly seniors, and just completely different outlook than in the school life. She learnt a lot from anyone, until a time she applied for an abroad scholarship and surprisingly she won the ticket. She took one academic year to participate in a student exchange to the United States of America (USA). She was in her fourth semester when she flew to the states to study in Missouri State University (MSU). Therefore, when she returned, she was in her seventh semester already. Unfortunately she had to go back to complete her missing semesters in the home university. At the same year, she was appointed as the president of ESo.

In 2011, a few months after she returned home, she was proposed for a marriage by a gentleman; and she agreed. She continued her busy classes, even if when she was pregnant. In 2013, she was taking a compulsory course of Society Engagement (KKN) and Teaching Practice Program (PPL) which required her to stay in a village called Pagar Dewa, West Tulang Bawang. Living in such hardship made her think and gratitude for any easy access she can get back in the town.

At times, she is running an online translation and proofreading bussiness called Your Grammar Detective. She hopes she can apply her ability in English field to help others as well as possible. She is confidence that those who shed more sweats and tears in pursuing dreams, will be the winner afterall, like her life motto, man jadda wa jadda.
