

ABSTRACT

Economic and Political Rights of believer Kerokhanian Sapta Darma (Survey on Citizens Association Sapta Darma (PERSADA) Lampung Province)

By Netty A. Sihaloho

One of belief is rooted in ancestral culture Indonesian nation, which contain the noble values and has been entrenched in the community as a result of reasoning power, creativity, initiative, and a sense of human, intangible cultural beliefs include the flow of psychotherapy, psychiatric, kerokhanian / believe God Almighty is the flow Kerokhanian Sapta Darma. Spirituality flow Sapta Darma has grown in several areas, one of which is located in Lampung which has a good follower of the village, district and province. This study aims to determine the fulfillment of the economic rights and political rights penghayat kerokhanian Sapta Darma as Indonesian citizens, both of understanding Sapta Darma own citizens and of understanding the researcher. The method used descriptive qualitative. Data were obtained through in-depth interviews and literature study. In-depth interviews to informants purposively selected.

These results indicate that the economic rights and political rights penghayat kerokhanian Sapta Darma has not been fulfilled completely. In fulfillment of the economic rights penghayat groups experience discrimination in two forms, namely, discrimination structural and individual discrimination. It can be seen from the still presence of labeling and stereotyping of communities that experienced by some groups penghayat in the work environment. In fulfillment of political rights, the group penghayat Sapta Darma also experience social barriers, where the barriers experienced due to the bad service at the local level. It can be seen from the right to registration of religious identity in the ID card, the right to assembly and the right to build houses of worship. Barriers associated with Sapta Darma penghayat group in the fulfillment of the economic rights and political rights is caused by two factors, namely internal and external factors. To overcome obstacles in fulfillment of the economic rights and political rights, the group penghayat efforts / strategies, ranging from the community level up to government level.

Keywords : Economics and Political Rights, believer Sapta Darma