

ABSTRACT

INFLUENCE OF CLIMATE SCHOOL STUDENTS AND ATTITUDE TOWARDS THE SUBJECT ECONOMIC RESULTS OF LEARNING ECONOMY CLASS XI IPS SMA

Muhammadiyah 01 Pringsewu

LESSON YEAR 2014/2015

By:

MUHAMMAD IQBAL SABERI

Based on preliminary research conducted at SMA Muhammadiyah 01 Pringsewu note that results for students in the subjects of Economics is low. The purpose of this study was to obtain data and determine the influence of the positive effects of school climate and student attitudes on economic subjects against hasi studying economics class xi sma ips Muhammadiyah 01 Pringsewu the school year 2014/2015. The study population was students of class XI IPS SMA Muhammadiyah 01 Pringsewu much as two classes with the total number of students 51 students. Sampling technique is simple random sampling is by using the formula T. Yamane obtained a sample of 45 students. The method used is descriptive verification by using ex post facto and surveys. The results showed that, there is the influence of climatic influences of school and student attitudes on economic subjects against hasi studying economics class xi sma ips Muhammadiyah 01 Pringsewu the school year 2014/2015. Based on data analysis $25.289 F_{count} > F_{table} 3.23$ as indicated by multiple linear regression with a coefficient of determination (r^2) 0, 546 which means that the learning outcomes are influenced by the attitude of students towards subjects, achievement motivation, and self-concept amounted to 54.6 % and the remaining 45.4% is influenced by other factors.

Keywords: Learning Outcomes, School Climate, and Student Attitudes Lesson In Economics