satisfaction on performance is positive. Based on calculations by using the formula by comparing the product moment correlation between the variables of job satisfaction on the performance obtained $r$ value of 0.776 (Appendix 5), then the calculated $r_{table}$ value of 0.418 (Appendix 6). This means $r_{table} (0.776) > r_{table} (0.418)$, so Ho rejected and Ha accepted, whereas the calculation of the ratio between the variables of job satisfaction on the commitment $r$ value of 0.625 is obtained (Appendix 5), then the value $r_{table}$ compared with 99% confidence level $n = 37$ obtained $r_{table}$ value of 0.418 (Appendix 6). This means $r_{table} (0.625) > r_{table} (0.418)$, then Ho is rejected and Ha accepted. The conclusion of these calculations is that there is a positive relationship between job satisfaction on the performance and also there is a positive relationship between job satisfaction on employee commitment at the The Bumi Waras Hospital in Bandarlampung.

Then to find the level of influence between the variables of job satisfaction on performance using the coefficient of determination with quadratic $r_{hitung}$ results obtained and multiplied by 100% determination coefficient (KD) equal to 60.22% (annex%) and the remaining 39.78% influenced by other factors not discussed in this research. This means that there are positive effects of job satisfaction on performance. Amount of influence between the variables of job satisfaction with a commitment to use the coefficient of determination quadratic $r_{hitung}$ results obtained and multiplied by 100% determination coefficient (KD) equal to 39.06% (annex%) and the rest 60.94% influenced by other factors not addressed in the study this. This means there is a positive influence between job satisfaction on commitment.
