

ABSTRACT

The purpose of this study is mendeskripsikan and understand the thought patterns that form of child victims of prostitution. who need protection as well as school children who provide self-development aspirations in accordance with their needs and their relation with the process of realization of child rights. protected. The specific objective is to describe how prevention and control to negate the impact of the activities and / or commercial sexual exploitation through prostitution and child trafficking.

The rise of the sex industry in Indonesia has been hit almost on the lives of children and adults both men and women since the age they were still under age until they become adults and even old age. They were forced by circumstances and living conditions and kehiduapn them to become commercial sex workers. Work they do tend to as one form of work belonging to the worst, especially for children who are still minors, both male and female. Children experiencing discriminatory in his life, both economically and sexually exploited, and treated inhumanely so that the rights they need to get protection.

Keywords: sexual exploitation, child commercial, economic income