Community Forestry Policy was appeared since 1995 in SK of Forest Minister No. 622/Kpts-II/1995 and have pass some revisions. The recent policy is aimed to realize the forest conservation and prosperous society by involving the society as the program agent. The implementation on the field was focused on three principal aspects, they were : social , ecology, and economy. The application of this policy was done in Indonesia. DIY, NTB and Lampung became the pilot provinces of this program. From those implementation process, in the three provinces, West Lampung was faster than the other provinces in responding those policy, if it was seen from the policy commitment, estimation, control and plan. The research problem is that how is the application of HKm in West lampung, How is the respond to the HKm policy revision, and how the model formulation of HKm application?

The research was done in West Lampung in SumberJaya, Way Tenong, and Gedung Serian. The method which was used was descriptive method. Informant selecting process was done by using snowball system. Data collecting technique was done through indept interview and continued by Focus Group Discussion. Analyzing technique which was used was qualitative analysis.

The research result showed that, 1. The application of HKm in West Lampung run well, suitable to P.37/menhut-II/2007, but there were still some weaknesses in field facilitation and understanding acception of some sides; 2. Generally, the change of SK Menhut 31/Kpts-II/2001 to Permenhut 37/Menhut-II/2007, were responded positively in society, and 3. Model formulation of HKm in West Lampung showed the strong support from the government, society, and the third side. Some critical points to P.37/Menhut-II/2007 could be found in : 1. The Tenurial System after 35 years, 2. the provision of forest resources, 3. The use of wood in the HKm area, 4. Government Facilitation and 5. The limit criteria of area management.
