

ABSTRACT

SPATIAL PLANNING POLICY IN RELATION TO ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AND MANAGEMENT IN NORTH LAMPUNG REGENCY

By

Novekawati

Local regulation Number 08 of 2001 on Spatial Planning North Lampung Regency, should be one main in licensing the implementation of development, however in fact local government of North Lampung Regency permits industrial establishment in forbidden industrial areas. Consequently, it must be investigated about "Spatial Planning Policy in Relation to Environmental Protection and Management in North Lampung Regency". The problems of research are how spatial planning policy in relation to environmental protection and management in north Lampung regency is and how instrument of spatial planning law in environmental protection and management is.

According to the problem above, problems approach which is used are normative juridical and empirical. The types of data which are used are primary data and secondary data. Primary data was gotten by conversation results and secondary data was gotten by literature study, and was analyzed by qualitative.

The result of research concludes, that spatial planning policy in north Lampung Regency does not follow legal local regulation, it was proved by industrial license granted tapioca factories in Kali cinta Village, which is according to local regulation is not industrial areas. Instrument of spatial planning law which is used are instrument of spatial planning law, space usage, space of usage control. Instrument of spatial planning should be guidance in implementation of spatial planning. Instrument of spatial planning law north Lampung regency is achieved in spatial planning north Lampung regency area. Instrument of spatial usage law in north Lampung regency consists of structure planning spatial usage and design of spatial usage. Instrument of space usage control law in north Lampung regency was done through supervision and enforcement in space usage and licensing.

Keywords: Policy, Spatial, Environmental