

ABSTRACT

FACTORS AS THE CAUSE OF CONFLICT IN GOVERNOR ELECTION OF LAMPUNG IN 2013

By

ANDRIALIUS FERAERA

Governor election of Lampung in 2013 has declined as much as three times. This is caused by policy conflicts between KPU of Lampung and the Governor of Lampung. This research was intended to found out factors behind the conflict and explained the effect of the conflict in its implementation of the governor election of Lampung. Theories used in this research was conflict cause theory and conflict impact theory. This research was considered as qualitative research in descriptive. Based on research done, it can be inferred that the factors as the cause of conflict in the election of Lampung governor were trust issue, conflict of interest, communication, and legality-formality factors. Meanwhile, the impact occurred was appearance of new ideas and improving the quality of decision taken in Lampung governor election in 2013. The second was the pressure suffered by society involved in conflict. The third, conflict created a different style of participation such as authoritative style between both sides of participant. Forth, legal uncertainty in society. The last, the conflict create separatism movement in new groups.

Keywords: Governor Election Of Lampung, Conflict, Cause and Impact.