

ABSTRACT

ANALYSIS PF FACTOR AFFECTING LABOR ABSORPTION IN THE PROVINCE OF LAMPUNG 2000-2012

By

CLAUDYA PHYLOSA WIJAYA

The purpose of this study is to investigate and analyze the provincial minimum wage, gross regional domestic product and private investment as well as the partially together. The data used are time series data years 2000-2012, using a multiple regression model approach Ordinary Least Square method (OLS), the results of this study indicate that partial MinimumProvinsi wages, GDP and private investment effect on employment. Based on the calculation of elasticity of employment, wages MinimumProvinsi variable results obtained by -0.84%, the variable GDP of 2.04%, and variable private investment by 0.16%.

Keywords: Provincial Minimum Wage, Gross Domestic Product, Private Investment, Labor Absorption, Ordinary Least Square (OLS).