ABSTRACT

EFFECT OF GENERAL ALLOCATION FUND AND REVENUE AGAINST EXPENDITURE ALLOCATION IN CENTRAL LAMPUNG

By

DEVI NOVITA SARI

This study aims to analyze the influence of the General Allocation Fund and revenue of the expenditure allocations Central Lampung regency. This research uses methods of quantitative analysis with multiple regression models. The data used are secondary data get from the Central Statistics Agency Central Lampung Year 2000 - 2013, which formed the General Allocation Fund, Local Revenue and Expenditure District / town in Central Lampung.

The results showed General Allocation Fund peneletian positive and significant effect on the direct expenditure. General Allocation Fund positive and significant effect on Indirect Expenses.
the original income positive and significant effect on the direct expenditure. the original income and no significant negative effect on Indirect Expenses.

Suggestions in this research is to improve allocation of the Local Government area of expenditure is expected to continue to explore the sources of the original income both intensification and extensifikasi to increase local revenues, as well as provincial governments to continue to work for the General Allocation Fund can withdraw as much as possible.

Key words: General Allocation Fund, the original income, Expenditure.