

ABSTRAK

HUBUNGAN PROGRAM LEGISLASI DAERAH DENGAN PERENCANAAN PEMBANGUNAN DAERAH KABUPATEN WAY KANAN

Oleh

Indra Zakariya Rayusman

Development encourages goals by the state constitution as mandated to materialize, to implement the development agenda was composed of stages in the planning system to accommodate development or community dynamics. In the preparation of the regency Prolegda based on: a. Higher Legislation Command.; b. Regional development plans; c. The implementation of regional autonomy and the duty of assistance; and aspirations of local communities. Development plan prepared in time one of them includes: Regional RPJM contains the policy direction of local finance, public policy, and programs of local work unit, work unit across the region, and the regional program is accompanied by a work plan within the framework of regulatory and funding framework that is indicative. The problem in this thesis is how the correlation with the regional legislation program and regional development planning of Way Kanan regency and how local regulations to realize the Medium Term Development Plan of Way Kanan Regency?

Approach to the problem which is used in this research is conducted through a normative juridical approach through the study of literature and an empirical juridical approach based on the reality or case studies.

The results showed that in the process of establishing local regulations, Prolegda has a very important position. With the functioning Prolegda, the establishment of local regulations to have a reference that contains the priority drafting local regulation for the long term, medium or short term. Preparation of Prolegda not only for the formation of legislation, but also more broadly related to overall regional development programs. Way Kanan Regency since the enactment of regulations No. 12 of 2011 to currently have not local regulations related to the Local Legislation Program.

Finally recommended to the Regional Government that the Regional Legislation Program organized should reflect regulatory framework of RPJMD by observing the characteristics and aspirations of the communities.

Key words: Correlation of Local Legislation, Development Planning, Way Kanan