The problem in this study was the low learning outcomes of natural science students in thematic learning at SD Al Azhar 2 Bandar Lampung city. This study aims to determine the effect of problem based learning models to the learning outcomes of students' natural science thematic learning. The method used in this study was quasi experiment, with non equivalent control group design. The population in this research were all fifth grade students at Al Azhar 2 elementary school in Bandar Lampung. The techniques of data collection were observation, test and documentation. Based on the results of hypothesis testing using the product moment correlation formula and t_{test} , it showed that there are differences and the influence of the use of problem based learning models on the results of learning science in the learning of fifth grade students at Al Azhar 2 elementary school Bandar Lampung

Keywords: the applicability of learning problem based learning models, thematic learning, the result of learning IPA
