The objective of this research was to find out the drafting process of Bandar Lampung Regional Regulation Number 10 in 2011 about Municipal Space Planning in Bandar Lampung and factors influencing selection and adoption (provision) of Bandar Lampung Regional Regulation Number 10 in 2011. This was a descriptive research with qualitative method. Data were collected with interviews and documentations.

The results showed that (1) Arranging process of Local Regulation runs into 10th Neighborhoods Local Regulation in 2011 to reform the city to be higher based on Local Regulation. However after the researcher analyzed that there are many problems such as , a zone that is not suitable in 10th Local Regulation in 2011 ; (2) policies contained in Regional Regulation Number 10 in 2011 were updates from Law Number 26 in 2007 and Regional Regulation Number 26 in 2008 because the latter was no longer possible to use.

The researcher recommends that process of drafting regional regulation should be more effective not to be too time consuming to build public understanding about a policy issuing plan about municipal space management in Bandar Lampung in the Regional Regulation Number 10 in 2011. Public socialization of the new policy should be more improved because public do not know much about regional space management planning and public do not understand what they will get from that space management planning.
