This study aims to (1) explain how the Aceh Party identifies the identity of Acehnese ethnically and religiously (2) analyze how Acehnese identity needs to be manifested in the symbols of the Aceh Flag and Coat of Arms (3) explain how the Partai Aceh (the Aceh Party) responds to the rejection of the draft of the Qanun concerning Aceh' Flag and and Coat of Arms by the Central Government. This study was conducted by means of a qualitative method with a descriptive design. The informants were chosen by employing a purposive sampling technique. Data collection tools used were in the forms of in-depth interviews and documentation. Data reduction, data display, and data verification were parts of the data analysis of this study. The results showed that (1) Partai Aceh identified the Acehnese people ethnically and religiously based on several indicators, such as language, customary institutions, customs, arts, social control and religion. It was also found that (2) the identity of the Acehnese people contained meanings and values that could be applied as a symbol of both unity and peace. In addition, (3) there was a difference of opinion between Partai Aceh in in Aceh's House of Representatives and the Central Government regarding Aceh's Flag and Coat of Arms. Moreover, (4) some of ethnics of minority in Aceh supported while the others were against the Qanun. Based on this explanation above, it is known that although the politics of religious identity, in this case Islam greatly influences the political dynamics in Aceh, not all sub-ethnic groups in Aceh require symbols in the form of qanuns and symbols of Aceh, so the Qanun on the Aceh Flag and Coat of Arms has not been effective to be applied.
