

ABSTRACT

STUDENT PERCEPTIONS ON THE ISSUE OF RADICAL ISLAM (Case Studies On Student FISIP University of Lampung)

By

Guntur Wira Yudha

This research's goal is to determine, describe, and explain the students' perceptions about the issue of radical Islam. This research was conducted on students of FISIP University of Lampung where students of FISIP University of Lampung study social and political science and also students of FISIP University of Lampung who are critical thinkers and idealists. This type of research is a descriptive qualitative approach. The total number of informants in this research was 4 people. Data collection techniques in this research include field research, field observation, interview, and literature. The data analysis in this research includes data reduction, data presentation, and drawing conclusions. Based on the research results, it is known that student perceptions related to understanding the issue of radical Islam can be common views and attitudes related to this issue. The fourth informant revealed that the issue of radical Islam has always been synonymous with terrorism or the use of violence (hard line) in the application of some religious rules. In this aspect, the mass media took part in creating radical Islam issues related to terrorism.

Keywords: perception, radical islam