

ABSTRACT

THE METHOD OF INDEPENDENCE ESTABLISHMENT IN ORPHANAGE (Studies in Orphanages AL-Muttaqin Subdistrict of Muaradua District of South OKU)

By

YESY AFRIANTI

The purpose of this research is to determine the behavioral method of self-cultivation of Independence and children in the orphanage Al-Muttaqin Muaradua District of South OKU regency. The research method that used in this study is a qualitative research method with interview data collection techniques, library research and study documentation. Analysis techniques used are reduction, presentation and conclusion. On this research, the researchers used method of formation independent children's behavior according to Bimo Walgito. The results of this research showed that method of independence plant in Al-Muttaqin Orphanage has three ways of forming behavior of self-independence of the formation. The first, formation Behavior Independence with the habit of conditioning or caregiver get the children to be able to perform such routine used to get up early, clean bed, praying, helping prepare food and obey the order. Second formation behavior independence by Giving Understanding (Insight) that children are given the sense to make them to be independent. Third, formation of independence behavior with a model or an example provides an example to the children so that, they can imitate the good habits from their caretakers. From the method of independence plant showed independence behaviour's children like sense of responsibility, capable to make their own decisions, and capable to do daily activities without other people's helping.

Keywords: method, establishment, independence