LPPL Rapemda Pringsewu FM presents informative broadcast content that offers new opportunities to continuously improve the quality of government by increasing public participation by presenting an interactive dialogue broadcast program themed PRICES (Pringsewu Cegah Stunting). This study aims to determine how much influence the intensity of watching live streaming radio on Facebook has on the satisfaction of obtaining information on stunting prevention in Pringsewu Regency on the Rapemda Pringsewu FM Facebook account. This study uses a survey method with a descriptive quantitative approach. The sampling technique used is purposive sampling. The findings in this study indicate that the intensity of watching live streaming radio on Facebook indicates that it has an effect on satisfaction in obtaining information on stunting prevention by 52.8%, while the other 47.2% is influenced by other factors not examined in this study. The results of hypothesis testing stated that  $H_0$  was rejected and  $H_1$  was accepted. This means that there is an effect between variable X (intensity of watching live streaming radio on Facebook social media) and variable Y (satisfaction with getting information on stunting prevention). There is a significant relationship between variable X and variable Y based on the results of the correlation test of 0.727. This means that the level of relationship between variable X and variable Y is at a strong degree of relationship with a value category between 0.60-0.79 based on the degree of relationship according to Sugiyono. The intensity of watching live streaming radio on Facebook social media with the dimensions of motive, purpose, attention, appreciation, duration, and frequency affects audience satisfaction in obtaining information on stunting prevention in Pringsewu Regency seen from their needs, including cognitive needs, affective needs, individual integrative needs, integrative needs social, and disengagement needs.
