

ABSTRACT

ABSORPTION ANALYSIS OF LABOR IN THE INDUSTRY IN THE DISTRICT OF BONE ONION TEMPE PERIOD 2009-2013

BY

RINI ANITA SARI

This study aims to determine the empirical evidence on the effect of labor, capital prices and output prices on employment in Tulang Bawang Lampung. The data used are secondary data obtained from bone Diskoperindag Onions. The analysis tool used is multiple linear regression with the help of the program Eviews 6. The results of this study indicate that the wage workers and significant positive effect on employment in soybean industry in Tulang Bawang at 95% confidence level. Equity prices and no significant negative effect on employment in small industries in the district tempeh Tulang Bawang confidence level 92% .The price output is positive and significant effect on employment in small industries tempeh in Tulang Bawang at 95% confidence level.

Keywords: Wage labor, capital prices, output prices, the amount of energy work