The number of cosmetic companies that continue to emerge has caused competition in this industry to become increasingly fierce. Based on data obtained from the Top Brand Index, apart from the loose powder and pressed powder categories, Make Over has not succeeded in getting the Top Brand Award. Reporting from databoks.id, Make Over has not been able to surpass other PT Paragon brands, namely Wardah and Emina. The problem faced by Make Over cosmetics is the high level of competition in the cosmetics category. This research aims to examine the influence of self-brand connection and brand experience on customer satisfaction for the Make Over brand in Bandar Lampung. In this research, the approach used is quantitative with descriptive techniques. This research uses a purposive sampling method to determine a sample based on certain criteria with the population of Make Over customers in Bandar Lampung. Questionnaires were distributed online via Google Form to 130 respondents. This research uses Partial Least Square (PLS) with outer model and inner model coefficient tests. The research results show that all hypotheses are accepted, namely that self-brand connection and brand experience have a positive effect on customer satisfaction and brand experience mediates the relationship between self-brand connection and customer satisfaction.
