MOTTO

If you want a different result, then you must change your action. Because if you take same action everyday, you always get the same result.