

ABSTRACT

DEIKSIS IN THE MAGAZINE HORIZON KAKILANGIT ISSUE 2012 AND IMPLICATIONS OF LEARNING INDONESIAN IN HIGH SCHOOL

By

Nurudin

The problem in this research is how deiksis persona, time, and place in written discourse Kakilangit at the 2012 edition of the literary magazine Horizon and its implications in learning Indonesian language and literature in secondary school (high school). This study aims to describe deiksis persona, time, and place in written discourse Kakilangit at the 2012 edition of the literary magazine Horizon and its implications in learning Indonesian language and literature in secondary school (high school).

The method in this research is descriptive qualitative method to study engineering texts, interpreting text (discourse) and literature. Source of research data is written discourse Kakilangit at the 2012 edition of the magazine Horizon.

The results showed that success occurs when the reference moved depend author, time, and place of written language. It was found in written discourse in Kakilangit at the 2012 edition of the magazine Horison be deiksis persona, place (locative), and time (temporal). The results of this study may be required deiksis and applied in learning Indonesian language and literature and can be used as teaching material in the form of lesson plan (RPP) which is used by the subject teachers Indonesian language and literature in high school through the curriculum in 2013.

Keywords: deiksis, implications, methods